Date: Wednesday, May 8, 2024

Time: 1:00 – 5:00 p.m. ET + Dinner Following

Location: Michigan Ross School of Business Tauber Colloquium

Theme:
The year’s annual member forum on May 8th is a chance for us to renew our sense of community and amplify our capacity to harness community as a source of resilience in times of change.

Join us for a lively intergenerational conversation involving Consortium members with students. Experience a pre-conference sneak peek into the theme of uplift amid upheaval with TED-style talks about times when the bitter and sweet come together to empower communities to weather tragedies and expand their creativity. And experience a powerful workshop that will invite you into skills involved in using a form of community governance called Council, facilitated by professionals from Snap Inc.

As we step into a new era at the Center for Positive Organizations, we invite you to come along on a new journey where we contribute to a thriving ecosystem of knowledge and practice. Our expanded and revitalized community is dedicated to co-learning that deliberately, energetically, and powerfully transcends generational divides, brings disciplinary knowledge into conversation with real-work demands, and advances the collective capacity of our members and their organizations to achieve new forms of excellence.

Agenda:
1:00 – 1:30 p.m.  Registration, Welcome, & The State of the Consortium Community

1:30 – 2:00 p.m. The Bittersweet of Resilient Community
Lessons from Our Members

2:00 – 3:00 p.m. Strengthening Community
Telling Our Stories of Togetherness

3:00 – 4:30 p.m. Experience the Council Practice with Snap
Council is a listening practice for people to come together, share stories, listen deeply, and speak from the heart. This practice of active listening cultivates empathy and a sense of belonging. It is a way we build community and create high-performing teams at Snap Inc.
